NMIA SUPPORTS DOD SYMPOSIUM

"Intelligence Education Beyond the Year 2000"

CRAIG WILSON
IET-2000 SYMPOSIUM CHAIRMAN
SENIOR VP, NMIA

NMIA successfully supported the second phase of the OSD/DIA sponsored symposium on intelligence education. The Symposium was opened by Lieutenant General Leonard Perroots, Director DIA, at the Defense Intelligence Analysis Center (DIAC) at Bolling Air Force Base, on 12 November. The Symposium was again chaired by Mr. Craig Wilson, Director of Intelligence Personnel Training, Office of the Secretary of Defense, and a Senior Vice President of NMIA. Brigadier Gen Harry Hagaman, USMC (Ret.), a member of the NMIA Board of Directors and Colonel Roy Jonkers, USAF (Ret.) served on the committee organizing the event. The latter also served as the intermediary with industry and the NMIA membership.

NMIA efforts had a significant effect on the attendance, which exceeded 300 individuals. The sessions were at the SECRET level and addressed ADP, artificial intelligence, and man-machine interface requirements for intelligence education in the environments of the future. The Symposium concluded on 13 November with a series of demonstrations of ADP applications to SIGINT, IMINT, and other intelligence education issues by government agencies and industry representatives. This was the second successful and significant Symposium supported by NMIA in 1986.
